
Growing Your Food in the U.P. — the series continues !

1 message

Transition Marquette <transitionmarquette@gmail.com>
Bcc: mqtchaz@gmail.com

Thu, Jan 11, 2018 at 3:03 PM

JAN
18

Growing Your Food in the U.P. Series
Continues!

Thurs., Jan. 18th @ 6:30 p.m.
Marquette Missionary Church
1804 Wright St., Marquette, Michigan

Grace has been growing in this area for 30 plus years. She brings a vast understanding of all types of food producing plants and their nutritional value to any presentation she provides. Her experiments in how to grow in the U. P. have been very successful.

In this presentation, Grace will introduce us to garden produce, background, tips on selecting nutrient dense varieties and, hands-on activity in how to build a 'nutrient dense - cut and come again style window sill garden'.

She will show us using foil bread pans, soil, newspaper, some pigment-producing vegetable seed, and water. Transition Marquette will provide deep pigmented chard or multi colored chard seeds. Guests just need to bring an open mind! Come and learn from one of the best, most experienced growers in this area.

For more information contact: transitionmarquette@gmail.com

Transition Marquette County

Find us on Facebook, Google Groups, or visit our website!

If you do not wish to be on our contact list, please let us know by replying to this message, and we'll remove your contact information.